A Knock on the Door

My Grandfather was born in 1916. He was only about four or five when the Black and Tans came to his door. He was so scared that he hid under the table. His Mom and Dad were really scared too. If I was there I would have run away.

Guns in the door frame

My uncle lived in a house near Ballinascorthy in around 1975. Builders were repairing the house because it was old. They were taking off the roof when they found a sack, it was in the top right corner of the door frame. A Historian came out. He said 'there wouldn't be another one next to it?' It would be opposite it'. So they checked. He was right. He put them both in a museum.
