

Rathpeacan House

In Rathpeacan House, Billarney Co. Cork, My great great Grandad owned a farm. He had one farm worker, one day that farm worker went onto the country road and buried a tin bucket in the middle of the road with only the bottom rim showing. A truck load of Black and Tans were passing they saw what they thought was a coal mine but it was actually the bucket. They spent hours on end shooting at it until they discovered it was a hoax.

Written by Kate Coppinger

St. Josephs N.S. Skibbereen