

Sometime about one hundred years ago an old man was walking up the road leading up to the ~~grave~~ graveyard at around twelve o'clock. The man had heard stories about the graveyard but never took any notice of them until he heard the howling of dogs and clapping of horses hooves. Next thing he knew a black car came up behind ~~him~~ him and he stood in to let it pass. This car seemed very suspicious but he didn't know why. So he ~~kept~~ kept walking until he could see the graveyard but nothing. This was a ~~strange~~ strange but he saw after all. ~~and~~ Where could they have gone?

This man has passed away some ~~time~~ time ago.

By Mathew Duggan
Scoil Bhríde

MATHEW DUGGAN
SCOIL BHRÍDE