

Kilbrittain Creamery

4/10/17

My Grandad used to live in Kilbrittain. Soon after he moved to Lark city. His father, my great grandfather had a farm near Kilbrittain town. (Before my grandad was born) one day when my great grandad was riding his horse and carriage to the nearby creamery (he owned a farm) as he was making his way to the farm, some black and tan soldiers stopped him. They told him to follow them for questioning and had to follow them. His horses were so used to going up the lane to the creamery, his horses turned and thank fully <sup>he</sup> said nothing. The black and tan did not notice until they were back at their barracks. Then Cummins was a very lucky man after that! When he got home he told his family and they were all shocked.
